
The term “head impulse, nystagmus, test-of-skew” has been changed to read, “Head-Impulse—Nystagmus—Test-of-Skew” throughout the article.

On page 3082, in the last paragraph before the Clinico-Anatomic Correlation section and on page 3085, in the last paragraph before the Lesion Location and Involved Structure(s) section there were minor errors in the numbers. As indicated in the table, the number of patients with positive Head-Impulse—Nystagmus—Test-of-Skew is 16/1, 89%.

The authors regret the errors.
