CONTENTS OF VOLUME VIII

Relationship of Transient Ischemic Attacks and Angiographically Demonstrable Lesions of Carotid Artery .................................................. 483
Ronald L. Eisenberg, William R. Nemzek, Wesley S. Moore and Richard L. Mani

Evoked Potential Changes During Brain Retraction in Dogs ...................... 487
Marvin H. Bennett, Maurice S. Albin, Leonid Bunegin, Manuel Dujovny, Harold Hellstrom and Peter J. Jannetta

Abstracts .............................................. 493
Joint Committee for Stroke Resources IV. Brain Edema in Stroke ................. 509

News From The American Heart Association ... 541

No. 5 (September-October)

EDITORIAL: The Extracranial/Intracranial Bypass Study .......................... 545
Fletcher H. McDowell

Three-Area Epidemiological Study of Geographic Differences in Stroke Mortality. I. Background and Methods .......................... 546

Three-Area Epidemiological Study of Geographic Differences in Stroke Mortality. II. Results ......................................................... 551

Global Brain Ischemia: A Reproducible Monkey Model ............................ 558
Edwin M. Nemoto, Achiel L. Bleyaert, S. W. Stoczeki, John Moosy, Gulti R. Rao and Peter Safar

Stroke and Mortality Rate in Carotid Endarterectomy: 228 Consecutive Operations .......... 565
J. Donald Easton and David G. Sherman

Vascular Endoscopy — An Adjunct to Carotid Surgery .............................. 569
Jonathan B. Towne and Victor M. Bernhard

Diagnostic Reliability of the Percutaneous Ultrasonic Doppler Technique forVertebral Arterial Occlusive Diseases ........................................... 571
Hirao Kaneda, Tadayoshi Irino, Takao Minami and Mamoru Taneda

Intracranial Aneurysms and Subarachnoid Hemorrhage — Report on a Randomized Treatment Study. IV-B. Regulated Bed Rest — Statistical Evaluation ........................................... 579
William G. Henderson, James C. Torner and Donald W. Nibbelink

Effects of Antihypertensive Drugs on Blood Velocity in Rhesus Monkeys .............. 589
J. David Spence, James Pesou and Kenneth L. Melmon

Cervical Manipulation and Stroke ...................................................... 594
J. Donald Easton and David G. Sherman

Recurrent Stenosis at Site of Carotid Endarterectomy ................................ 597
Barry N. French and N. Barry Newcastle

Diagnostic Significance of CSF Spectrophotometry and Computer Tomography in Cerebrovascular Disease. A Comparative Study in 231 Cases .......................... 606
C. E. Söderström

Differentiation of Early Subarachnoid Hemorrhage from Traumatic Lumbar Puncture ........ 613
Edwin C. Shuttleworth, James M. Parker, Gary R. Wise and Mary Ellen Stevens

Angiographic Spectrum of Cervical and Intracranial Fibromuscular Dysplasia ........ 617
Anne G. Osborn and Robert E. Anderson

Modification of Cerebral Ischemic Damage by Anesthetics ........................ 627
William E. Lightfoot II, Gaetano F. Molinari and Thomas N. Chase

Letters to the Editor: Directional Doppler in Occlusive CBVD ...................... 629
Aubrey Lieberman

Abstracts .............................................. 630
News From The American Heart Association ... 647

No. 6 (November-December)

Factors Influencing Outcome and Length of Stay in a Stroke Rehabilitation Unit. Part 1. Analysis of 248 Unscreened Patients — Medical and Functional Prognostic Indicators .......................................................... 651
Joel S. Feigenson, Fletcher H. McDowell, Philip Meese, Mary Lou McCarthy, and Susan D. Greenberg

Factors Influencing Outcome and Length of Stay in a Stroke Rehabilitation Unit. Part 2. Comparison of 318 Screened and 248 Unscreened Patients .............. 657
Joel S. Feigenson, Mary Lou McCarthy, Susan D. Greenberg, and Walter D. Feigenson

(Continued)